Out & about

Sea air, sandy paws and a squirrel or two

GETTING TO THE BEACH

Following a recent cliff fall, direct beach access using the cliff steps at the bottom of our garden is currently closed. Instead, we have arranged complimentary passes with dog-friendly Shanklin Chine, less than two minutes' walk from the hotel. This lovely tourist attraction leads directly to the beach below.

CHINE PASS Complimentary	FROM THE HOTEL Under 2 minutes' walk
OPEN DAILY 10am – 10pm	SEASON End of March – end of October

AFTER A SPLASH

When you return from your splash in the sea and chasing the gulls on the beach, our special doggy wash station and doggy towels are waiting to dry you off.

Would you rather try to spot (and chase) the red squirrels? Rylstone Gardens, directly opposite the hotel entrance, is a great place to start.

YOUR ROOM & THE GARDENS

As one of our very welcome four-legged friends, you are allowed in the majority of our Standard rooms and in a selected few Sea Facing rooms.

You also have full access to our clifftop gardens, providing you keep your humans with you and on a lead at all times.

Remember: on a lead in the gardens, and keep your humans close.

Dining with your dog

Good doggies get sausages too

LUCCOMBE MANOR

Breakfast

You can stay with your humans in any of the dining areas; just please don't follow them to the breakfast buffet room. Good doggies get sausages too, and there's a dedicated Juno's Breakfast Menu to choose your favourite extras from.

LUCCOMBE HALL

Grand View Restaurant

Treat your humans to a special meal. There's a doggy dining area here too. Please make sure you're happy being near other dogs, and be on your best behaviour so as not to disturb humans who don't have dogs. They may get really jealous that they haven't got a doggy like you.

PREFER A QUIETER TABLE?

Private dining

Not keen on other dogs, or on humans other than your own? Ask whether our private dining room is available (a small additional charge of £5 per human), or order from our take-away evening dinner menu.

WHERE TO ENJOY IT

Your bedroom

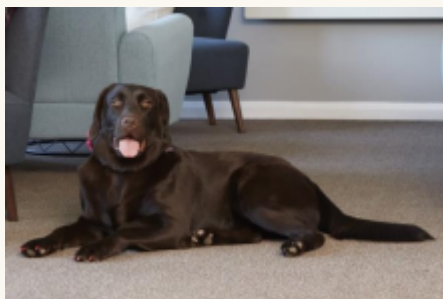

And when the day is done, you're welcome to let your humans enjoy a drink in the bar with you as well.

A few house rules

Don't forget to tell your humans about them

- 1 Never home alone. Please don't let your humans leave you unattended in your room during the day. If you're a very well-behaved doggy in need of a short nap, you may stay in your room, provided your humans let Reception know, remain on site at Luccombe Hall or Luccombe Manor, and leave us their mobile number.
- 2 Humans on a lead. Explore all our grounds, as long as you keep your humans on a lead. Whenever you leave your bedroom, keep them on a lead so they don't wander off or go sniffing humans who may not be human friendly.
- 3 The pool. You may take your humans into the outdoor pool area at Luccombe Manor only, on a lead at all times; we've provided ground clips for your safety. Don't go in the pool, it's only human friendly. Luccombe Hall's pool area is strictly humans only.
- 4 Pick up after. Your humans are responsible for you, so please ask them to always pick up after you and use the bin at the entrance to Luccombe Manor car park.
- 5 Four paws on the floor. Your humans are welcome on the chairs, sofas and beds, but we kindly ask that all four paws stay on the floor.
- 6 Little accidents. If you have one, ask your humans to tell a member of staff, who will give them cleaning materials.
- 7 Best behaviour. Any damage you cause will need to be paid for by your humans.

We hope you have a wonderful stay at Luccombe Manor

Love, Juno xx
